COMMUNITY BENEFITS OVERVIEW
Temple University Health System (TUHS), as the sole membe	r of its affiliated hospitals and physician practices, provides ac	cess to facilities, programs, and other resources to carry out a	broad array of community services. Through the employees and physicians	of Temple University Hospital, Fox Chase Cancer Center, and our fac	ulty and community-based Physician practices, we provide comprehen	sive services to improve the health and quality of living in North Phil	adelphia and our Southeast Pennsylvania region.
TUHS is dedicated to ensuring access to comprehensive prime	mary and specialty quality patient care through population health,	linked to academic excellence in medical education and research.
Our health outreach and education services are critically	important in the diverse, economically challenged neighborhoods surrou	nding our hospitals. TUHS hospitals provide indispensable health ca	re services to a public hospital. Among Pennsylvania's full-service safety-net providers, Temple University Hospital (TUH) serves the greatest volume and highest percentage of patients covered by Medicaid.

TUH is an 879-bed non-profit acute care hospital that provides a broad spectrum of primary, secondary, tertiary, and quaternary care to patients throughout Southeastern Pennsylvania and beyond. TUH is accredited as an Adult Level 1 Trauma Center by the Pennsylvania Trauma Systems Foundation and is a Regional Burn Center. Among our recent distinctions is the achievement of Magnet status from the American Nurses Credentialing Center, a prestigious recognition of quality nursing care, community commitment and staff dedication bestowed upon only 8% of U.S. healthcare organizations.

In addition to our main campus on North Broad Street, TUH includes the Episcopal, Northeastern and Jeanes campuses, all of which serve economically and socially disadvantaged communities. Our Episcopal Campus provides a recovery-oriented behavioral health treatment program, offering a welcoming approach and hope for those whose lives have been affected by mental illness and co-occurring disorders. It serves adults, age 18 or older, experiencing severe psychiatric symptoms that markedly impair their capacity to function adequately within the community. Many are diagnosed with psychiatric plus one or more substance or alcohol disorders. Almost half have diagnoses of hypertension, diabetes, or both. Many have multiple co-existing medical illnesses.

patients covered by Medicaid in both the inpatient and out	patient setting. About 87% of TUH's inpatients are covered by gov	vernment programs: 41% by Medicare and 46% by Medicaid. Patients d	lually eligible for both Medicare and Medicaid comprise about hal	f of our Medicare inpatient base. Approximately 51% of our total i	npatient cases include a behavioral health diagnosis.
TUH serves as a critical access point for vital public hea	alth services.
Last year we handled about 152,000 patients in our Emerger	су
Department; about 10,000 patients in our Psychiatric Crisi	s Response Center; 1,500 discharges from our inpatient Behavioral Hea	alth unit. We delivered about 2,200 babies, of whom nearly 90% were cove	ered by Medicaid.

Temple physicians also staff important clinics that address major public health concerns, such as the Comprehensive Neuroaids Center at Temple University, which is dedicated to improving the public health impact of bench-to clinic research associated with HIV-induced neurological diseases and cognitive disorders.

Temple's nationally renowned physicians offer state of the art treatment options for patients with complex medical problems, some of whom were previously considered untreatable. Using sophisticated technologies and personalized treatments, Temple physicians are working to alter the course of serious disease. In over a dozen research centers, our faculty is speeding the transformation of fundamental scientific discoveries into practical therapies that may one day dramatically improve human health.

The Fox Chase-Temple Bone Marrow Transplant Program, a formal affiliation between Fox Chase Cancer Center and TUH, is an example of this type of transformative medicine. Last year it performed 92 transplants, and has participated in countless research studies to promote life-saving treatment modalities.

The Temple Center for Population Health is committed to maintaining a sustainable model of healthcare delivery through clinical and business integration, community engagement and academic distinction to promote healthy communities. The Center includes an extensive network of Patient Centered Medical Homes, chronic disease management programs, an extensive community health worker program, peer coaching, and a central patient access center. Our mission is aligned with the goals of the United States Department of Health and Human Services' three-part aim of achieving better care for patients, better health for our communities, and lower costs through health care system improvement.

With respect to prevention, education and outreach related to cancer, we are proud of the services provided through Fox Chase Cancer Center, a National Cancer Institute Comprehensive Cancer Center. Its Office of Health Communications and Disparities addresses the cancer needs of its geographically, racially and ethnically diverse population through individual contact, group teaching and other modes to educate about cancer and link to screenings.

Temple University Health System takes great pride in the broad array of services it provides to the community. Below we describe a few of the programs and activities conducted this past year to help advance the wellness and improve the quality of life in our communities.

CHARITY AND UNDER-REIMBURSED CARE:

Our hospitals provided about $38 million in charity and under-reimbursed care.

SUBSIDIZING CRITICAL HEALTH SERVICES.

Our hospitals invested about $20 million to subsidize critical health care services needed in our community. This includes support for our outpatient emergency, acute care and psychiatric services, as well as the inpatient psychiatric services on our Episcopal Campus. These physical and mental health services are critical to the health and welfare of our vulnerable communities.

INVESTING IN HEALTH PROFESSIONS EDUCATION

Temple invested $127 million in the education and training necessary to develop a professional healthcare workforce to benefit the broader community. Our residents and fellows are involved in various efforts that directly impact the community, including effort to address the epidemics of opioid misuse and gun violence as well as other public health issues. The exposure that our residents receive caring for our diverse, low-income community helps Temple address health disparities while developing our nation's future physicians.

RESEARCH

Our hospitals invested $26 million in internally funded medical research. This included investigations to increase knowledge of the causes, prevention and diagnosis of cancer.

During our FYE June 30, 2021, TUHS hospitals engaged in numerous programs and events serving thousands of community members. Below are selected highlights.

(1) Pandemic Response: Temple University Hospital offered a 24/7 COVID-19 hotline to provide community members with questions on COVID-19 prevention, infection, and recovery. We operate free COVID-19 testing on our hospital campuses. We also partner with community organizations to provide on-site testing in difficult-to-reach neighborhoods. Our Regional Health Collaborative, in partnership with University of Pennsylvania, covers over 300 assisted living, personal care homes, and skilled nursing facilities in Philadelphia, Bucks, Chester, and Lancaster counties with consulting services on COVID-19 care, PPE use and sourcing, testing, infection control, and palliative care. We partner with the Philadelphia Housing Authority (PHA) to provide its residents with COVID-19 education and assistance with food insecurity, prescription delivery, financial assistance, and other social challenges. This program is staffed by a dedicated team of community health workers, all public housing beneficiaries, who we trained and hired.

(2) Prevailing Upon Cancer: The Fox Chase Cancer Center operates several comprehensive screening and education programs, including its Community Cancer Screening Program which connects individuals with breast, skin, head, neck, and prostate cancer screenings. Fox Chase Speakers Bureau educates the community on breast, cervical, ovarian, Schedule O (Form 990 or 990-EZ) 2020 colorectal, prostrate, lung, skin, and other cancers. Through our Resource and Education Center, Fox Chase provides patients	, families, and community members with access to free cancer information and resources that address the cancer continuum. Fox Chase also provides psychosocial supports through several support groups. Our community partnerships include diverse entities including community-based, faith-based, business, legislative, and academic partners. Through these partnerships, we educate audiences and develop relat	ionships to support community wellness.

(3) Addressing the Opioid Epidemic: Temple University is on the front line addressing this public health crisis: 25% of our inpatients have a substance use disorder; our service area's drug overdose mortality rate is seven-times the national rate and has the highest opioid mortality rate in the City of Philadelphia. Our Temple Recovery Using Scientific Treatment (TRUST) Clinic, which is integrated into our family medicine and general internal medicine practices, provides low-barrier substance use disorder treatment with on-site peer recovery and case management services. The TRUST Clinic supports community based primary care providers and Temple University Hospital's Emergency Departments at its main, Episcopal, and Jeanes campuses. Our Begin the Turn street side multidisciplinary unit is staffed by a behavioral health professional, case manager, medical practitioner, and outreach workers. This team provides pharmacologic treatment for opioid use disorder and acute care services with a bridge to primary care and social services.

(4) Addressing Public Health Impact of Gun Violence: Temple University

Hospital's prevention and intervention programs provide a comprehensive 032212 11-20-20 Schedule O (Form 990 or 990-EZ) 2020

approach to addressing this public health crisis. The homi	cide mortality rate in our immediate service area is 700% highe	r than the national rate. With the addition of a full-time psycholog	ist, Turning Point offers cognitive-based and trauma-informed mental he	alth services to patients. Cradle to Grave is our collaborative program	with the Juvenile Justice Department and local schools that works w	ith at-risk youth to break the cycle of gun violence. Our Fighting Cha	nce program is one of the nation's few initiatives that teach communit	y members how to provide basic first aid to gunshot wound victims.

(5) Healing Through Work: Our partnership with the Pennsylvania Commission on Crime and Delinquency and Philadelphia Works connects victims of gun violence with gainful employment to disrupt the cycle of interpersonal violence, open pathways, and bring stability to lives. A full-time workforce development specialist on our trauma team enrolls participants, help set career goals, creates access to career pathways, and provides ongoing training and mentorship.

(6) Trauma Victim Advocate Program: We provide social, emotional, and material support to patients and families from their time of entry into our hospital through discharge. Our 24/7 advocate team offers counseling and facilitates access to victim's services that aid with post-traumatic recovery and community reintegration. We provide referrals to crime agencies to assist with relocation, recovery of lost wages, unpaid medical bills, and mental health services. In FY21, we linked 469 patients to North Philadelphia-based crime victim service agencies through TUH's 24-hour Trauma Advocate Program, representing a 23% increase in the number of patients served over FY20.

(7) Cure Violence Philadelphia: This structured violence intervention program is based on the premise that violence is a public health issue. The program is designed to reduce the spread of violence through interrupting its transmission, concentrating on those at highest risk, and changing social norms that propagate violence. As a replication site of the global Cure Violence model created in Chicago, our adapted model works to reduce the level of violence, particularly shootings and homicides, in Philadelphia. Trained outreach workers identify and mediate conflicts in the community. They work with high-risk individuals -- meeting them where they are and helping them obtain the social services they need -- making them less likely to commit violence.

(8) Maternal Health Equity: Geared toward prevention and treatment, this program advances and nurtures the health, wellbeing, and agency of Black, Latinx, and Indigenous birthing families in Philadelphia and beyond. A multidisciplinary team of clinicians, birth workers, and researchers cultivate impactful and sustainable solutions that support health equity at individual, family, health system, and societal levels. This program addresses substance misuse in pregnancy in a trauma-informed, evidence-based way that supports the entire birthing family throughout the pregnancy and one-year post birth.

(9) Philadelphia Healthy and Safe Schools (PHASeS): Trauma-informed schools have been shown to protect children who have been traumatized from suffering from substance misuse. A team of trauma specialists use educational coaching, parenting guidance, and social work values to 032212 11-20-20 Schedule O (Form 990 or 990-EZ) 2020 empower the school community. A principal endeavor of the	program is to transform two nearby public K-8 schools into urban trauma sensitive beacons. Providing safe and welcoming trauma-informed schools for children to learn, teachers to educate, and a community to	grow will elicit openings to achieve educational milestones, generate a climate of sustainability, and engender greater academic and socia	l equity.

(10) Transformative Emotional Academic Community Healing (TEACH): This program is designed to create stronger interpersonal relationships and improve the mental health of youth in North Philadelphia through mindfulness and trauma-informed programming. TEACH is an innovative, trauma-informed, community-driven model designed for children in K-8 grade levels who lack substantive and supportive out-of-school-time programming. It fosters development of strong, cohesive, independent family systems and communities through the creation of hyper-local, high-quality, informal learning spaces. TEACH focuses on enhancing and affirming children's social and emotional literacy, physical and psychological safety, interpersonal support, and community connection -- critical developmental building blocks for success, self-determination, and wellbeing.

(11) COVID-19 Vaccination Collaborative: This program addresses vaccine hesitancy in North Philadelphia and provides community-based access to COVID-19 vaccination. In partnership with the Lewis Katz School of Medicine (LKSOM), Miriam Medical Clinics and Zion Baptist Church, we contributed to the vaccination of 14,197 community members. This was achieved by conducting vaccination clinics at approximately 90 churches, community-based organizations, and schools in Philadelphia.

12) Care Transitions & Community Health Workers Programs: We developed a cohesive and robust series of programs that address social determinants and link patients to appropriate services. Our Community Health Worker (CHW) team serves as a critical resource for our surrounding neighborhoods. After identifying patients with complex social and medical health issues, CHWs conduct home visits, schedule and attend doctor appointments, coordinate transportation and connect with other social supports to improve quality of life and treatment outcomes. We also developed a social determents of health survey tool embedded in EPIC that is utilized to identify gaps in basic needs for patients such as housing, food, access to internet, transportation, utility assistance, and general health literacy. This has been implemented in our Emergency Departments and physician practices. When patients are identified with a gap, the CHW team coordinates access to community-based programs. In addition, we invested in a web software that identifies community based resources. This site supports our CHWs work and is available to the community as a free service.

(13) Multi-Visit Patient Clinic: Provides a full continuum of care for patients with high emergency department use and frequent inpatient admissions. Upon discharge, Community Health Workers link patients with follow-up healthcare, provide meals and transportation, conduct home visits, and connect with other social supports. Patients enrolled in the clinic show a 40% reduction in emergency department use, 21% reduction in inpatient utilization and over 50% increase in outpatient services use, demonstrating they are seeking more appropriate care in 032212 11-20-20 (14) Certified Peer Recovery Specialist Team: We hired a team with lived experience and specialized training that links overdose patients and families with needed social services after treatment in our Emergency Departments and Crisis Response Center.

(15) Food Insecurity & Nutrition: Given the limited access to fresh food in North Philadelphia, our Farm to Families program brings fresh, low-cost produce to North Philadelphia families through home delivery and neighborhood distribution to address obesity, food insecurity, cardiovascular disease, and diabetes related to poor diet and lifestyle. Families can use SNAP benefits and a "prescription" from a Temple doctor to purchase local fruits and vegetables helping them build capacity for healthier eating habits. In partnership with the Lewis Katz School of Medicine, St. Christopher's Foundation for Children and the Lancaster Farm Fresh Cooperative, food is sourced, packaged, and delivered to community food hubs Our Jeanes Campus offers a seasonal fresh farm market, nutritional cooking demonstrations, and community access to its walking trail.

(16) Community Health Outreach: Temple University Hospital participated in numerous health fairs serving our immediate community to build trust and break down barriers to care. We often collaborate with Temple University's Schools of Medicine, Public Health, Dentistry, and Pharmacy to provide health screenings and education on a variety of health issues affecting residents, including diabetes, obesity, cancer, depression, anxiety, addiction, and PTSD. Health professionals from

ADDITIONAL INFO

In addition to the above, Temple University Hospital offers a number of culturally competent services to augment our ability to provide access to high quality care and improve outcomes for our patients and their caregivers. Below are selected highlights.

(1) Financial Services: Temple employs Financial Counselors dedicated to helping uninsured and under-insured patients obtain medical coverage as well as providing assistance with out-of-pocket medical expense. Our team of knowledgeable and caring professionals help patients understand their insurance coverage, limitation, and out-of-pocket obligations. They assist patients and their families by answering their questions regarding the cost of healthcare services, providing information and guidance in comparing health plans, and enrolling them in government funded insurance plans such as Medicaid, Medicare, and ACA Marketplace plans. All of our counselors are CMS Certified Application Counselors. In addition, they assist patients in applying for Temple Hospitals' Charity Care and Sliding-Scale Financial Assistance program and setting up payment plans. The financial counselors also assist patients in qualifying for patient assistance programs to cover most of the out-of-pocket costs for expensive medications.

(2) Linguistic and Cultural Services: Our language proficient bilingual staff, who we train and credential, performed thousands of interpretations this year. This unique program, known for its excellence, is one of many resources we provide to non-Eng	lish speaking patients and families. We also assist other area hospitals	that call on us to adapt our linguistic services module to their patien	t populations.

(3) Patient Family Advisory Councils (PFACS): Under the le	adership of Temple University Hospital's Office of Patient Experience, we continued the six (6) Temple Physician Incorporated (TPI), Temple Heart and Vascular Institute (THVI), and Temple Trauma Unit Injury PFACs for a total of 8 PFACs. These committees engage and encourage the participation of patients, their families, and members of the community in evaluating patient satisfaction. Our PFACs are currently setting priorities as well as developing recommendations for improving Temple University Hospital's services, programs, communications, and policies to better meet the needs of patients and families with the full support of Temple Health leadership.

(4) Workforce Development: The purpose of our labor-management workforce development and education programs are to build local workforce and improve skills sets needed to deliver quality healthcare. This involves comprehensive training and education to help workers living in our community adapt and improve skills to enable them to participate in a changing healthcare workplace. Career pathways include nursing, behavioral health, allied health, childcare, and health IT. Education services include GED classes and testing as well as ESL and safety instruction. In addition to our partnership with Temple University's Center for Social Policy, District Council 1199c Training and Upgrade Fund, and Philadelphia Workforce Development

Corporation, our Community Health Worker program helps loc	al residents develop valuable job skills while also achieving national	goals of improving healthcare quality, outcomes, and cost.
(5) Emergency Preparedness and Research: This program hel	ps ensure that our staff and hospital facilities are prepared to con	tinue to provide safe, quality patient care under the most austere	conditions.
This program is a critical link in federal, state, and loc	al disaster response plans. Our Emergency Preparedness Department is i	nvolved in three local committees including the North Philadelphia Em	ergency
Healthcare Support Zone, the Regional Hospital Subcommitte	e, and the Emergency Support Function-8 Work Group. These committees	focus on creation of drills, policy development, and continuing edu	cation.
